

2017 Sydney Petite Sirah

Estate Collection, Dry Creek Valley

TASTING NOTES

The nose is met with raspberry, fig, and oak. Textured flavors of bramble berry, cola, tea leaves and blueberry exemplify the high mountain characteristics of this wine. Rich on the palate and full-bodied, showing a purity of fruit and hints of minerality. Great depth and earthy accents highlight this wine grown in volcanic clay soils 1600 feet above the Dry Creek Valley floor.

PAIRING IDEA

Sticky oven roasted ribs and baked beans.
